Tzorchei Tzibur Award

June 5, 2011

Herbert Birnbaum
Man of the Year
2011

Carole Wald
Tzorchei Tzibur Award
2011

Rabbi's Message

This evening we are privileged to be able to honor Herbert Birnbaum as Man of the Year and Carole Wald as Tzorchei Tzibur recipient.

In a few days we will be celebrating the holiday of Shavuot, commemorating Kabbalat HaTorah. Our sages tell us that at Har Sinai the entire Jewish nation was united as one with the shared goal of serving Hashem. Both Herbie and Carole have demonstrated their sense of oneness with our shul community as well as the Jewish community at large.

Herbie Birnbaum has served the shul as a board member and officer for decades. He has chaired our Adult Education and Holocaust Committees and is an active participant in all aspects of shul life.

In earlier years, Herbie together with his beloved late wife, Connie, z'l, helped grow the shul community through their warm hospitality and enthusiasm. Herbie is involved in the broader Jewish community as a leader of several Jewish dental philanthropic causes, Holocaust education and the Connie Spear Birnbaum Memorial Lecture. We all enjoy Herbie's leading of our davening and leining on Shabbat and Yom Tov.

Carole has been an active volunteer for the shul for close to three decades. She helped generate many educational and social programs for the shul community and has always participated in every aspect of shul life. Carole raised her children in our shul community and we are fortunate to have Sam, Tami and their children in our community emulating Carole's example of volunteering their time and energy for the needs of our community.

Carole performs quiet acts of chesed, providing meals and visiting the infirm and elderly. Carole's involvement in the broader community includes her participation in the Ahavas Chesed program which provides weekly meals for the home-bound and elderly.

Our high regard for Herbie Birnbaum and Carole Wald has been reflected in the many messages found in the following pages of the ad book and at tonight's annual dinner. These are richly deserved tributes to outstanding individuals who have impacted shul life through their tireless efforts on behalf of our community.

At this time it is appropriate to express our thanks and appreciation to those responsible for the success of our ad book and dinner. We extend our gratitude to Alan Vogel, chairman of this year's ad book, and his Ad Book Committee, for organizing this successful project and Dan Goldish for his expertise. Of course, as always, we thank Jeff and Lisa Bellin for their time and energy in typesetting and laying out the ad book that has resulted in significant financial gain for the shul. Special thanks also go to Amy Rosen and Risa Krohn and the rest of the tribute committee for their hard work in planning and arranging this evening's event. Thanks goes to each and every one of you who continue to help maintain our synagogue as a vibrant center of Jewish life and learning, fostering the goals of Torah throughout the community. May G-d grant all of us health and vigor to continue this effort of serving G-d and man.

Rabbi Gershon Segal

President's Message

I am delighted to welcome our members and their friends and families to our Evening of Tribute. During my time in the Shul and as an officer, I have greatly admired Herbie Birnbaum for his tireless efforts on behalf of our congregation and the broader Jewish community. Herbie has served as a board member and officer of the Shul for over two decades. He has chaired our Adult Education Committee and our Holocaust memorial Committee. Herbie and his late wife, Connie z'l, were one of the families that played an important role in the early growth of our Shul. I am also proud of Herbie's contributions to the broader Jewish community through his charitable work in the Jerusalem Dental Society and other Jewish dental associations, his role in community Holocaust awareness, his organization of the annual lecture in Connie's memory, and his musical work with Zamir Chorale and Zachor .

I am also pleased that we are presenting Carole Wald with the Tzorchei Tzibur award. Carole has been a dedicated and loyal member of the Shul for more than two decades. She has contributed tremendously to the growth and well-being of our community through her hospitality, volunteerism and regular participation in all aspects of Shul life. More importantly, Carole performs countless quiet acts of Chesed by providing meals and comforting visits to the elderly and infirm. Carole has also been involved in the broader Jewish community, including the Ahavas Chesed program providing weekly meals for the homebound and elderly and her work with the Chevra Kadisha.

I would also like to thank Amy Rosen and Risa Krohn, who have coordinated this evening's event, as well as Alan Vogel, Jeff Bellin and Dan Goldish for their work on the Ad Book. Their efforts and creativity have made this evening such a success.

Phillip Levy

Adbook Committee

We are very pleased to present this year's ad book. Your ads reflect the honor we wish to bestow upon our honorees, Herbie Birnbaum and Carole Wald. Each of them, applying their respective talents and with much hard work, has made significant contributions to our community. The ad book represents not only the pride they can take in their accomplishments, but the pride Congregation Beth El takes in them. Most of all, your ads show the common bond you have with the honorees: a desire to see our congregation grow and be successful, and continue to serve you and your neighbors, whether in times of celebration or in times of need. May this book serve as testimonial of the esteem in which we hold our honorees and our commitment to the future of Congregation Beth El - Atereth Israel.

To our Mom:

*Your chesed has inspired us,
To be very generous,
You give to the community unconditionally,
You give to those who do not even plea,
Hours of cooking for people in need,
And for us and our friends you always do feed,
You make your home available to all,
Everyone is welcome even if they don't call,
You spend a lot of time with the sick and elderly too,
Giving is just a part of you,
You do so much in your own quiet way,
Helping others from day to day,
Your children and grandchildren are proud of what you do,
We all love when we get to spend Shabbat with you,
Yom Tov and Shabbat is always a feast ,
You prepare the best, standing hours on your feet,
It all comes from your need to give,
Newton is lucky this is where you live!*

Love,

I thank each one of you for the blessing of your friendship. Ours is a unique community - so many outstanding individuals, connected by the bond of Torah and the golden thread of humility and menschlichkeit. For all your kindness, over so many years, to my parents, a"h, Connie, a"h, Benjy, Ilanna, Arielle and to me, I can never thank you enough.

Herb Birnbaum

Dad,

What can I say? Your unconditional love has been the one constant in my life. Your good heart has been a blessing to your family and to our community. And your ever-cheerful manner has lightened up the lives of all who know you. You embody the truth that he who is happy with his lot is the richest of them all.

May you go from strength to strength.

With the Deepest Love and Gratitude,

Benjy

Dear Daddy,

Mazal Tov on this well deserved honor. Throughout the years we have witnessed your selflessness by placing your community and family far before your personal needs. Your commitment to us and Beth El will always serve as an inspiration.

We are so proud of you and appreciate everything you do!

With Love,

Ilanna & Noam

Daddy,

When we learned Sefer Tehillim together for my Bat-Mitzvah, you helped me pick a psalm that described each one of our family members. However, since you were the one helping me, we never picked a psalm for you. Although this phrase is not from Tehillim, I feel that these words describe the single most important lesson which you teach me by example every day. You recognize and appreciate every blessing in your life, and always see the good in every situation. You show me that even when life gets difficult, there is always so much to be thankful for and smile about. Thank you for being such an amazing role-model, teacher, and constant inspiration to me. I love you and mazal tov!

We have heeded the words of Joshua Ben Perahyah and gotten ourselves a friend. And oh what a friend! Carole inspires us with her rush to perform mitzvot (beyond number) and in her adherence to Halakah. She is someone with whom we share spirited and delicious Shabbat meals as well as both the constant joys and sorrows of daily life. Her energy is boundless and no one we know is better described by the words of the Eishes Chayil. One need only look to her superb children and their families to see what an amazing mother she has been and continues to be. Our love and gratitude exceed words and we're delighted to join the community in honoring our truest friend.

*A good life hath its number of days;
But a good name continueth forever.
The wise man shall inherit confidence among
his people,
And his name shall live forever.
These indeed were men of mercy.
Whose righteous deeds have not been forgotten.
Their seeds shall remain forever,
And their glory shall not be blotted out.
Their bodies were buried in peace
And their names liveth to all generations.
People will declare their wisdom,
And the congregation tolleth out their praise.*
